

when inquiry was made as to what had become of her.

"It was Mrs. Linder who made the most important contribution toward the identification of Mrs. Becker's body. She had lent a sweater to Mrs. Becker the night of the latter's visit to her home, and this sweater was found upon the body. It was positively identified by Mrs. Linder, Becker also partly identified his wife's remains.

Assistant District Attorney Cohn said today that he fully expected an indictment for murder in the first degree.

"And I believe that more than one person will be indicted," he added. "There is evidence which is conclusive to me that this was a premeditated murder and that more than one person was concerned in the burial of the body."

Mr. Cohn said to say that if the open bodies might have tempted a person to sudden murder, as affording a place in which a body might easily be hidden, the presence of time there was conclusive to him that the killing had been premeditated. It was also the disposal of the body. It was said that the evidence indicated that Mrs. Becker's coat had been pulled over her head and that while thus encumbered, she had been struck several heavy blows on the head. These killed her and, with her head still shrouded in the coat, she was dropped into the old boiler pit, the authorities assert.

The last persons known to have seen Mrs. Becker alive were Mrs. Linder and her husband, Max. Becker seldom took his wife anywhere, but on the night of April 6 drove her to the home of the Linders. Several times Mrs. Becker told him it was time to go home, but he found some excuse each time to linger. Then the Linders, who wanted to retire, hinted it was time to go, but Becker ignored them and did not start home until after midnight. At that time no one passes the vacant lot where the body was buried.

As evidence was unfolded to Becker by bit, he first admitted the body was that of his wife, and finally alleged to have said:

"The jig is up."

The sister of Miss Anna Elias, the slain locking little woman who had won Becker's affections away from his wife, appeared yesterday to be particularly serious. She spent Thanksgiving Day at the District Attorney's office with her two-year-old daughter, of whom Becker is the father. When she returned to her room at No. 344 Home Street, the Bronx, she found she had been elected because of the scandal. She took the child to the home of her mother and then to the home of a sister, but according to the authorities she was turned away from both places.

Finally a policeman discovered her huddled in a doorway with the child in her arms. When she explained who she was Assistant District Attorney Cohn was notified and he directed that she be held at the Moreau Police Station over night as a material witness. Mr. Cohn asked Detective James Waterhouse to see that she got food and all necessary attention.

The little girl seemed to be very hungry and eagerly took milk and cereal that was given her by a police matron. Miss Elias told interviewers that she regretted that this little child must now bear the brunt of the suffering.

"It seems strange that little Marie should have to suffer for something that she is in no way responsible for," she said. "I do not care for myself, but only for her."

"I am finished with Becker. Although I do not believe he killed his wife I now feel him. He has always been kind and gentle with me, but I want nothing more to do with him."

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL SEEMINGLY KILLED BY FILIBUSTER

Opponents in 'Saddle When Senate Adjourned Out of Respect to Mann.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Efforts to smash the filibuster which has stopped all legislative action in the Senate since last Monday, proved fruitless today and the Democrats swept on, confident of victory.

Senator Harrison opened with a new attack as soon as the session convened. He made a motion to suspend the journal of Thursday and was launching into a lengthy address when Republican leaders asked adjournment of the Senate out of respect to the late Representative Mann of Illinois, which was agreed to.

The journals of last Tuesday and Wednesday have not yet been approved and there remains only one legislative day, Saturday, in the special session.

The Senate must adjourn before Sunday for the next session of Congress, and it became obvious that the Republican majority would not be able to pass in that time the Dyer anti-lynching measure against which the filibusters have directed their fire.

Other Guests Escape in Night Clothing Building Destroyed.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 1.—Three men lost their lives in a fire early today in the Ben Hur Hotel, formerly known as the Oak Hotel, in the business district here. None of the dead had been identified several hours after the fire.

All the other guests were reported to have escaped, most of them in their night clothing. The building was destroyed.

1,000 POLICE GUARD CLEMENCEAU IN VISIT TO ST. LOUIS

Spending Day in Seclusion at Country Home of Joseph Pulitzer.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1 (Associated Press).—Georges Clemenceau, former Premier of France, who is touring the United States to bring closer Franco-American relations, planned to spend today in seclusion at the home of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the St. Louis Post Dispatch, in St. Louis County, after arriving this morning from Litchfield, Ill., where his private car was switched to a side track last night while en route from Springfield, Ill., to St. Louis.

Clemenceau arrived here in high enthusiasm for his mission, declaring it "much better" than he expected.

Because of the threats against the Tiger he did not alight at the Union Station. The train merely pulled into the station for switching purposes, and proceeded to the western part of the city, whence M. Clemenceau was taken to the home of Mr. Pulitzer. The Tiger had requested all formalities be dispensed with.

Before alighting, Clemenceau said he could not be better pleased with his reception.

Asked to comment on his tour, he said: "I am entirely satisfied. It is better than I expected, much better."

He refused to comment on the plans of the French Cabinet for seizing the coal mines of the Ruhr Valley, and collecting its own indemnities.

"I am here on a mission of my own," he said. "It's a definite mission, and has nothing to do with current international affairs. I cannot talk about that."

Clemenceau spoke frequently of the ceremony at Springfield.

To-morrow morning "The Tiger" is scheduled to meet the St. Louis Clemenceau Reception Committee at Mr. Pulitzer's home and then head an automobile parade through the main thoroughfares of St. Louis, passing Washington and St. Louis Universities, where students and school children will be massed to greet him. He is to deliver his fourth formal address in America at the Odéon at 2 o'clock.

Chief of Police O'Brien announced that added precautions had been taken to protect Clemenceau during his visit here, in view of several threatening letters received at Mayor Henry W. Kiel's office in regard to "The Tiger's" visit. He estimated that approximately 1,000 police and soldiers from Jefferson Barracks would afford protection to the distinguished visitor.

At Springfield yesterday Clemenceau placed a wreath on Abraham Lincoln's tomb and spoke a five-minute eulogy.

Clemenceau will leave for the East to-morrow night, and will deliver a five-minute speech from the observation platform of his private car at 9:20 A. M. Sunday in Richmond, Ind. He will reach Baltimore Monday morning.

His planned visit to Annapolis has been stricken from the itinerary, and he will arrive in Philadelphia in the afternoon, deliver an address at the Forum that afternoon and depart for Chicago at 5:30 P. M. Leaving over for Sunday at some point in the Alleghenies, he will reach Chicago at 9 A. M., Dec. 11, address the farmers' convention and depart at 5:30 P. M. for New York.

He will arrive in New York in the late afternoon of the 12th and sail at noon the next day for France on the Paris.

PERMITS FOR PISTOLS MUST BEAR PICTURE OF OWNER BY NEW ORDER

Intention Is to Break Up Habit of Lending Them to Friends.

Police Commissioner Enright today ordered that every pistol permit issued by the department shall bear the photograph of the person to whom it is issued. The order becomes effective on Jan. 1. About 30,000 permits are issued in the greater city. Permits have cost $1 each and run for one year. Permits next year will cost $1.50.

The photograph is to be the size of the one usually pasted on passports, about one inch by one inch and a half. It must accompany the application and will be fastened to the permit by the police in a manner that will make it impossible for the substitution of another picture impossible without destroying the permit.

The new order is due to the fact that in several instances men who obtained permits loaned them to friends.

SHOT HIMSELF DEAD IN CENTRAL PARK.

An unidentified young man about twenty-five years old shot himself today in East Drive of Central Park on a path leading to the lake. He was found by a police officer and was dead. The following description was given out by the police: Five feet, seven inches tall, blue eyes, dark hair, black suit and overcoat, top shoes, and brown moccasins and soft hat. The last has the name of Hirsch.

KING GEORGE READY TO ABDICATE GREEK THRONE, IS REPORT

Venezelos Predicts Republic Will Be Formed in Letters to Friends.

ATHENS, Dec. 1 (United Press).—King George, fearful of the turn in Greek events and as a protest against trials and executions, has offered to abdicate. The offer was made immediately after he learned that Prince Andrew would be tried.

Princess Alice arrived to lead the defense of Andrew, her husband. She is a sister of Lord Louis Mountbatten of England. A dozen or more powerful influences were at work today to prevent the execution of Prince Andrew, brother of former King Constantine, and other "war guilty" yet to be tried and sentenced.

Former Premier Venezelos today forecast a Greek republic as the country was torn with dissension over trials and executions of war leaders.

"The people are ripe for a republic," he wrote friends in letters made public here.

Turko-Bulgarian insurrectionist outbreaks in Schin added to the turmoil with which the revolutionary Government finds itself enveloped.

The revolution attacked Greek troops, who repulsed them after killing twenty-eight. Thirteen of the Turk-Bulgarians taken prisoner were later executed.

ATHENS, Dec. 1 (Associated Press).—Gen. Doumianis, former Chief of the General Staff, and Gen. Vassilias, former Chief of Staff in Asia Minor, have been arrested, and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Gen. Papoulas, former Commander in Chief of the Army in Asia Minor.

says an official statement issued here. "The trial of Prince Andrew (brother of former King Constantine), who commanded an army corps at the time of the Sakaria operations, begins next week."

FRANCE DISAPPROVES, BUT WILL TAKE NO ACTION.

PARIS, Dec. 1 (Associated Press).—Execution of the former Greek Ministers in Athens brought expressions of extreme disapproval in French official circles. It is improbable, however, that any diplomatic action will be taken by the French Government.

SHOOT MAN IN THIGH WHO REFUSES TO PAY HASH CHECK FOR HIM

One-Legged Gunman Suspected of Several Hold-Ups Caught in 12th Street Restaurant.

William Curran of No. 39 Gansevoort Street is in St. Vincent's Hospital with a bullet wound in his right thigh, and James Durkin, twenty-eight, No. 241 West 133d Street, who has only one leg, will be arraigned in Jefferson Market Court today on a charge of having fired the shot. Durkin also is alleged to have robbed the till of Hyman Seid's restaurant at No. 44 Little West 12th Street.

Police of several west side precincts have been on the lookout for several weeks for a one-legged man charged with having perpetrated several hold-ups, and Durkin will be placed in the lineup today in an effort to ascertain whether he is the man wanted.

Durkin entered Seid's restaurant early today and ordered two orders of hash. Having eaten the hash, he asked Curran, who was seated at another table, to pay for it. Curran refused, whereupon, according to the police, Durkin drew a revolver and fired three times, one of the bullets striking Curran. Policeman McGuire of the Charles Street Station happened along in time, he says, to see Durkin robbing the cash register, from which $21.35 was pilfered after his arrest.

ALLEGED PICKPOCKET HELD IN $10,000 BAIL.

Accused of Taking Money From Woman in Street.

"I am going to hold you in $10,000 bail for the Grand Jury," said Magistrate McAndrews in Essex Market Court today to Jacob Halpern, twenty, No. 1 Varick Street, who was charged with grand larceny in extracting $15 from the pocket of Jennie Bergman, No. 210 Centre Street.

Detective James Stanley of the Pickpocket Squad told the court that yesterday afternoon he saw Halpern at Orchard and Stanton Streets take the money from Miss Bergman's pocket while she was making purchases from a push cart. Halpern darted away but was caught after a chase of a block.

Powers, excavation contractor of Los Angeles, had three and a half gallons of dynamite in his automobile, officers said, when he was arrested here for speeding at thirty-seven miles an hour and for having no tail lights. 12 TO 30 DEAD IN RIOTS AT MEXICO CITY HALL; MACHINE GUNS USED

The agitators, "Captains the Municipal Palace," the people, closely packed in the square, and forced forward by the presence of those behind them, began a moment—then one man started running toward the building. With a yell, the mob charged, fists and clubs upraised, men and women racing side by side.

Red-fire came from the palace; then yellow flames stabbed at the crowd from half a dozen points as the machine guns started their part of death.

The sing of bullets was in the air. Men and women fell and were trampled as the crowd, hurled back from the portals of the Government building, was seized with panic and fought only to escape from the trap.

Gasoline was poured over a scaffolding which had been erected against one side of the structure by workmen making repairs. The glare of flames threw a weird light over the scene.

The fire spread rapidly through the entire interior of the building, spouting from windows, devouring historic archives, as the machine guns continued their chatter. The gunners were driven from the shelter of the palace by the mob, but they had the crowd on the run and kept it going. Dense masses of humanity were packed in the entrances of the streets leading from the square, while behind them on the pavement some tumbled by and others crawled painfully to hiding places.

Boldly and police followed the retreating mob, leaping over the bodies of wounded. They were under orders to disperse the crowd and prevent it from reassembling. Large sections of the mob were so thoroughly frightened they thought only of flight. Isolated groups, however, set out to pillage the city.

Yelling and singing, they paraded the principal business streets, shooting through windows and hurling rocks. These men had their baptism of fire and were out for vengeance. Documents of Federal soldiers went through the streets at the double, seeking to head them off. It was now past midnight, the glow of the burning Municipal Palace lit the sky, and the progress of the mob could be traced by the sound of shots, crashing glass, yells and screams, mingled with orders shouted to troops and the jangling of their armaments.

SEE PROGRESSIVES HEADING FOR THIRD PARTY BEFORE 1924

stance and opportunity to tell them the next move.

As a counter-move President Harding and his lieutenants in Congress have determined to steal the thunder of the progressive group. Certain things which the more radical of the "progressive" coalition may advocate, such as a restoration of excess profits taxes, will be ignored by the Administration, but those measures which have been the basis not only for the strength of the farm bloc but have tempted some of the newly elected Senators to fall in with the plans of the "progressive" conference will be made part and parcel of the Administration program.

It was no mere coincidence that the plans of the Harding Administration to take up in earnest legislation for the relief of the farmers' woes should be announced at a White House conference on the very day when the new "progressive" group is meeting in the national capital.

Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture, upon whom Mr. Harding has leaned from the beginning for advice on matters agricultural, and Harry Daugherty, Attorney General and political mentor of the President, have been in conference with the Chief Executive officer and on for a fortnight trying to do something positive and forceful at once to make the farmer understand that his "O. S." calls are not going unheeded in Washington.

Those who have been laying the foundation for the "progressive" conference frankly admit they were stimulated to act because of the last elections. They interpreted the results in the various states as meaning dissatisfaction with the Harding Administration and with the Congress of the last two years and as a desire for progressivism.

In a broad sense, the insurgents know the relative value of a well established political party with organization and machinery, as compared with a new party. There will therefore be constant demands of any attempt to make a third party. Threats and intimations will, of course, be made repeatedly, as was the case in the campaign which preceded the Presidential election of 1912, but the "progressives" think the Republican Party has experienced a revolution inside, which will make it easy for the aggressive Republicans from the west to capture the Republican Party. It is considered better to "bore from within" than to hammer from without.

From now until the next national convention of the Republican Party, in June, 1923, the effort will be to liberalize and make "progressive" the present Republican Party. Failing that, a third party may be developed, but the prospects are far

PROGRESSIVE BLOC ORGANIZED WITH NORRIS CHAIRMAN

To Reform Congress, Abolish Electoral College and Regulate Many Things.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—An organization pledged "to drive special privilege out of Government and restore it to the people" was formed today by Progressive Senators and House members in a two-hour session at the Capitol. Senator Norris, Nebraska, was elected Chairman for the present at least.

The conference unanimously adopted this resolution as their creed and platform:

"Resolved, That the progressive-minded Senators and Representatives of all parties agree to meet from time to time and to co-operate wholeheartedly in order to accomplish the fundamental purpose on which special privilege rests, namely, to drive special privilege out of Government and to restore it to the people.

"To this end we will oppose unceasingly special interest legislation and in order to meet the critical situation that confronts the Nation, we propose to create special committees composed of members of the Senate and House, co-operating with men of affairs and experts, to prepare and submit to this group for consideration from time to time during this and the next Congress practical and constructive plans for dealing with the following great subjects:

"Agriculture, labor, railroads, shipping, natural resources, credits, taxation and a special committee to consider amendments to the Constitution, looking to the abolishment of the electoral college and the earlier meeting of newly elected Congresses.

"In order to restore and perpetuate the control of the people over their Government, we propose the institution of a nation wide campaign in the various states for direct open primaries for all elective offices, including the presidency, and for effective Federal and State corrupt practices acts."

To-day's meeting was opened with a statement by Senator La Follette that the "progressive" movement, having no political axes to grind, intended no third party movement. Senators Borah and Norris emphasized the fact that the movement must be and remain purely legislative.

Thirteen Senators and twenty-one House Members and Members-elect attended the meeting. Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, Chicago, the only woman in Congress, was among them. Telegrams and letters were received from others unable to attend. Those who attended were:

Representatives Burke, Collins, Huddleston, Logan, Mead, Casey, Frear, Ward, Beck, Lampert, Schneider, Keller, Volpert, Reid, Nelson, McSwain, Sinclair, Cooper, King, Huck, Mansfield and Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin.

MAJESTIC BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD ON VOYAGE TO FRANCE

Liner Makes Run to Cherbourg in 5 Days 6 Hours and 13 Minutes After Cleaning.

The White Star steamship Majestic, taking profit of her recent cleaning and repainting in dry dock at Boston, reached Cherbourg this morning with an eastbound record to her credit. She made the run from Ambrose Lightship to the French port in 5 days 6 hours and 13 minutes, breaking the Mauretania's record of 5 days 24 hours and 13 minutes made the run in 5 days 5 hours and 9 minutes. The average speed of the Majestic was 24.59 miles an hour and the length of the course 3,628 miles.

It was reported today by the Majestic's commander, Sir Bertram Hayes, that the vessel had not been particularly urged during the run. Her best day's performance was from noon last Monday to noon the following day, when she made 472 miles on the following day 568. She did not encounter particularly good weather during the voyage.

COTTON MILLS PLANT INCREASES PAY OF WORKERS.

from bright. Many of the men who are meeting with the "progressives" today ask for election on the regular Republican ticket in their own States. They would rather continue to dominate State delegations at national conventions and pound away at the Republican Party, even defeating it at the polls again, as in 1912, to secure recognition of themselves. The sentiment for a third party is really nebulous. It isn't a menace now. What it may be a year hence is a different matter.

As for the constant use of quotation marks to describe the "progressives," the truth is they haven't adopted a program yet and they do not know themselves what they want to accomplish except to stand together on measures which critics admit could radical or even socialistic, but which they insist are simply progressive and in keeping with the aroused spirits of the people in the last election.

WALL STREET BOMB SUSPECT IS HELD ON ELLIS ISLAND

Linde, Carefully Guarded, Brought From Russia—Burns to Question Him.

Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, who was arrested by agents of the Department of Justice in Warsaw, Poland, last year following his "confession" of the Wall Street bomb outrage on Sept. 16, 1920, is back at Ellis Island today, having been taken off the steamship Lithuanian yesterday when that liner arrived at Quarantine. Also on the Lithuanian was Detective Sergt. Clinton Wood of the New York Police Department, who had made two trips to Poland to question Lindenfeld.

Just what new information police and Department of Justice agents have obtained from Lindenfeld is shrouded in impenetrable mystery and strict secrecy has been thrown around his arrival. In fact, denials were made today that he had arrived at all, but it is known definitely that the former Socialist labor agent and stool pigeon is being detained at Ellis Island preparatory to his being questioned by William J. Burns, Chief of the Investigation Bureau of the Department of Justice. Lindenfeld had named several persons in the Wall Street explosion, even the man who, he said, manufactured the bomb, but it was said that agents of the Department of Justice place little credence in his story. For this reason, it is considered unusual that the department has gone to the expense of bringing Lindenfeld back to this country. He will be returned to Poland just as soon as he is quizzed.

Detective Sergt. Wood had gone to Warsaw last May with two operatives of the Department of Justice to question Lindenfeld following his arrest by Silvester Cosgrove, Department of Justice agent. Paul Allenford, another agent of the department, had trailed the man for several weeks. Wood returned to this country with what he said was very little information of value, but he very quietly left again for Warsaw, and this time brought Lindenfeld back with him.

Lindenfeld was in the city on the day of the Wall Street explosion, and went to Poland on money said to have been furnished him by William J. Burns. He was said to have been sent to Europe as the emissary of the Department of Justice, but later it was said he had double-crossed Chief Burns, and his arrest followed. He is said to be a first cousin of Rosa Luxemburg, the German radical socialist leader, who was shot to death in Berlin early in 1919, after having been beaten by a mob.

It was said today by persons in close touch with the investigation of the Wall Street bomb explosion that in all probability nothing new would be learned from Lindenfeld, but that Chief Burns is in possession of definite information which may clear up the case in a few weeks. This, of course, could not be verified.

WINS $22,500, CAN GIVE FAMILY GLAD CHRISTMAS

Steamship Made Cripple by Accident Gains Jury's Verdict.

Although Franklin Jax, a steamship of No. 264 East 85th Street, is a helpless cripple, this is going to be the merriest kind of a Christmas for his two small children, as well as their parents. A jury in Justice Donnelly's part of Supreme Court today awarded Jax a verdict of $22,500 in his suit to recover $50,000 damages from George Carraway, real estate operator of No. 429 Third Avenue, Brooklyn.

SET FIRE TO THE TOWN TO ROB POST OFFICE

Flee With Loot, Followed by posse, Which Captures Two.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 1.—Erat setting fire to the business district, looted the Post Office at Brownfield, Terry County, of currency, silver and stamps Thanksgiving eve, according to information received here today. While the fire spread, they battered their way into the Post Office, smashed the cash drawer and then fled, as citizens assembled to fight the flames. Later, a posse overtook the gang and captured two of them. Much of the money was recovered.

This is the second time recently in which the business district of the town has been set on fire by robbers. The fire loss will be small.

MISS GORDON INSANE HOSPITAL HEAD SAYS

Believe May Recover From Delirium Tremens, He Tells Court.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The Supreme Court was assured today that Dorothy Gordon, inmate of the McLean Hospital during a contest over her guardianship and the control of her $100,000 estate was still sane.

Dr. Frederick H. Packard, Superintendent, testifying in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Judge Gardner of Baldwin, L. I., urged that the insane and demented William Jardine of Winchester, her former guardian, who seeks reappointment, that Miss Gordon was a victim of morphia poisoning, but was improving in time she might become sane. Jardine, questioned as to the conditions of the commitment of Miss Gordon, said that she went to the hospital willingly at a time when she was a prisoner.

The court ordered both sides to agree on an alienist to examine Miss Gordon and report to the court next Friday.
